Rajkot.—Weather cold ; cholera subsiding in Navanagar ; health generally good ; bajri 38 and jowari 49 pounds per rupee.

BOMBAY PORT TRUST.

Excerpts from the proceedings of a meeting of the Trustees of the Port of Bombay held on the 13th in st.

FISHING STAKES IN THE HARBOUR

Read letter from Secretary to Government, Marine Department, dated 28th September, inquiring whether the Trust will undertake to pay compensation to fishermen whose stakes off the entrance to the harbour may be moved, to the extent that may be awarded by the Committee assembled to assess the compensation. Read Government Resolution No. 675, dated 28th November, extending the distance from the shore up to which fishing stakes may be placed outside of the reserved area, from the 7 fathom to the 10 fathom line of soundings, and directing that the result of the concession now made may be awaited, before any further action in respect of compensation is taken. Resolution.—Government should be informed that the Trustees will take no steps in the matter until the result of this concession is seen.

PRINCE'S DOCK.

Read report of Special Committee appointed to look into the arrangements for the conduct of traffic at Prince's Dock, dated 9th December. Resolution.—Consideration postponed. The proposals of the Committee should be forwarded to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce for any remarks they may have to make, and the papers that led up to the report should in the meantime be circulated to the members of the Trust who have not seen them.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE FRERE-ROAD.

Read letter from the Resident Engineer, dated 7th November, submitting a plan showing how Frere-road might be widened 20 feet from Fort-street northward and estimating the value of the land to be given up at Rs. 6,30,540, and the cost of altering godowns so as to give room for the widening at Rs. 29,460 ; together, Rs. 6,60,000. Read report of Land Committee, dated 1st December. They are of opinion that whenever additional width is required, it can be obtained to a sufficient extent by decreasing the width of the footpaths, which are 12 feet wide on each side. They suggest that the footpaths should be narrowed to a greater extent on the east side than on the west, as it is more likely that there will be godowns on the east side than on the west, and wide footpaths in connection with them are inconvenient. The Committee are further of opinion that it would be desirable to regulate the traffic on Frere-road by means of mounted police, as the sepoys on foot seem to be unable to control it. Resolution.—Consideration postponed until there is a full meeting of Trustees.

PROPOSED NEW ROAD.

Read Government Resolution No. 2409 (Railway Department), dated 26th September, inquiring whether the Trustees will make a road along the south boundary of the G. I. P. goods station between Frere-road and Elphinstone bridge. Submitted plan forwarded by Secretary to Government with his letter of 10th November. Read minutes of members of Land Committee. Resolution.—Government should be informed that the Trustees are not prepared to give up land for a road skirting the southern boundary of Wadi-bunder, from Frere-road to Elphinstone bridge, but that if such a road be made on Railway Company's land the Trustees will permit a connection to be made from it to Argyll-road, on condition that the Railway Company pay for making the road over Trustees' property, that they agree not to interfere with the firewood sidings, that the Trustees have the right to use the road for their own purposes, and that the Trustees retain the right to close the road at any time on giving three months' notice. The Trustees will be prepared to maintain the road after it is made, and will not make any charge for the land.

The following were amongst the papers laid on the table:—

Letter from the Commissioner of Police, dated 24th November, asking that the lock-up at Prince's Dock be made more secure.

Estimate of cost, Rs. 77, by the Resident Engineer, dated 6th December.

Note.—It is proposed to sanction the proposed expenditure.

Letters from Port Officer, dated 6th and 8th December, reporting the stranding of a manjary loaded with chunam on the reef to the north of the export lines, and that it was removed on 8th instant.

Memo. from Traffic Manager, dated 5th December, reporting that Rs. 1,641-14 was collected for the Municipality on account of toll on labour carts at Sion and Mahim from 28th October to 4th December.

Pilotage statement for the week ending 10th December:—

12 Vessels piloted into harbour.
19 ,, ,, out of ,,
10 ,, transported.

Statement of vessels using Prince's Dock for the week ending 9th December :—

7 Square-rigged vessels entered.
8 ,, ,, ,, left.
7 ,, ,, ,, remaining in Dock.

POLICEMEN AT THE DOCK.

Read letter from the Commissioner of Police, dated 19th May, stating that the police force employed at the Prince's Dock is too small, and asking the Trustees to sanction the following additional staff :—1 European constable at Rs. 100 per mensem and free quarters ; 1 second class havildar at Rs. 20 per mensem and free quarters, or Rs. 2 per mensem extra as hutting money ; 10 native constables, i. e., 2 at Rs. 13, 2 at Rs. 12, 2 at Rs. 11, 4 at Rs. 10, per mensem each, with free quarters, or Re. 1 a month extra as hutting money. Read minutes of members of Dock Committee approving of the additional police staff being provided, and recommending that accommodation be found for the European constable in the upper floor of the cranemen's quarters. Read memo. by Resident Engineer, dated 20th December, explaining how the necessary accommodation for the European constable can be provided in the inspector's quarters, and estimating the cost of alterations, &c., estimated at Rs. 503, should be charged to revenue. The upper storey of the cranemen's quarters should be divided into three, as proposed in Chairman's minute of 9th December.

LIFEBOAT FOR KENNERY.

Read the following Government Resolution, General Department, No. 4164, dated 9th December:—"Considering the fact that Kennery is one of the outposts of the Bombay harbour, and that a lifeboat stationed there could, from the commanding position of the lighthouse, be of very great use in saving life and property when the south-west as well as the north-west gales blow, and even in cases of shipwrecks many miles away from the harbour, Government would have been glad if the Trustees of the Port had considered it expedient to maintain the lifeboat all the year round, as proposed in Government Resolution No. 3345 of 7th October last, instead of extending the period only by a fortnight." Resolution.—It should be intimated to Government that the Port Officer and the Resident Engineer of the Trust, both of whom are well acquainted with the requirements of the post in the neighbourhood of Kennery, being of opinion that there is no necessity whatever for the Kennery lifeboat to be kept manned throughout the year, the Trustees did not feel justified in burdening the trade with an expenditure which would have been considerably more than double that necessary for maintaining the lifeboat from 15th May till 30th September as now arranged. Moreover, that it seems doubtful whether even if the Trustees considered it necessary, they would be acting legally in incurring expenditure on objects so distant from the port as those referred to in Government Resolution No. 4164 (General Department) of 9th instant. Should the Port Officer, towards the end of September of any year, consider it desirable to maintain the Kennery lifeboat till 15th October instead of till 30th September, he is authorised to do so.

THE TRUST DEBENTURES.

Read Government Resolution No. 712, dated 17th December, intimating that the Government of India will be addressed in view to the Government of Bombay being permitted to introduce a Bill to enable the Local Government to give their guarantee to debentures issued by the Trustees. Resolution.—To be recorded.

The following were amongst the papers laid on the table :—

Pilotage statement for the week ending 17th December:—

13 Vessels piloted into harbour.
18 ,, ,, out of ,,
7 ,, transported

Statement of vessels using Prince's Dock for the week ending 16th December :—

7 Square-rigged vessels entered.
8 ,, ,, ,, left.
6 ,, ,, ,, remaining in Dock.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING.

The following Resolution is published in Saturday's Gazette of India :—

Read letter to the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 3926, dated 28th October, 1881, informing him that the Government of India desire to employ private enterprise in the work of printing forms now carried on in the Government Central Press, and requesting him to invite tenders from the private presses in Calcutta for the execution of the work.

Read also letter from the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 102, dated the 14th instant, submitting tenders received from several of the Calcutta printing presses.

Resolution.—It appears from the tenders that the prices at which private presses are ready to undertake the work which the Government of India desires to transfer to them are much in excess of the rates for which the work is now done in the Government Central Press ; the whole cost of which, including binding and distribution to the different Departments, now amounts to a little under Rs. 1,10,000 annually.

2. The Governor General in Council is most desirous of affording free scope for private enterprise in all matters in which it may legitimately be employed, and the principal aim of the measure now proposed is to afford such encouragement in an important branch of industry. But the attainment of this object, desirable as it is, cannot be allowed to conflict with the interests of the general tax-paying community, and it is not possible to offer to private enterprise an undertaking for the execution of which a premium must be paid from general revenues in excess of the cost for which the work is now done under direct management by officers of the Government. His Excellency in Council accordingly regrets his inability to accept any of the tenders which have been submitted to the Superintendent of Government Printing.

3. It is understood, however, that the offer of a contract for five years is not considered by some an adequate inducement to lay out capital in the purchase of the plant and machinery which will be required for the execution of the very large quantity of work to be done, at least thirty millions of copies of forms being required every year. The Governor General in Council has considered this point carefully, and has decided that, as it appears that the rate of cost per thousand forms in the Government Central Press varies but very slightly from year to year, the term of contract may unobjectionably be extended. His Excellency in Council will be prepared now to receive tenders for a contract for ten years. These will be received by the Superintendent of Government Printing at his office until noon of the 3rd January, 1882.

4. The tenders which have been received and rejected refer only to the printing of the forms. The Government of India has now decided, after further consideration, that the binding of the forms and their despatch as required to indenting officers shall also be undertaken by the firm or firms whose tender may be accepted. Intending tenderers for printing should accordingly include in their tender rates for these two branches of the work.

5. The Superintendent of Government Printing will afford to intending tenderers such information as they may require relating to the nature and quantity of the work and the rates at which it is now one, or on other points.

6. The Government of India do not consider it necessary to require that any single press in Calcutta shall undertake the whole of the extensive amount of work involved in the printing, binding, and distribution of these forms. The work has therefore been divided into four sections—

(1) Railway Forms.
(2) Post Office and Forest Forms.
(3) Public Works and Commissariat Forms.
(4) All other Forms.

The tenders for each should be distinct, but any tenderer may put in tenders for any one or more sections, or for all of them, and the tender for any section or sections should include a tender for binding and distribution, as well as for printing.

7. The Government of Indian will be prepared to dispose at a fair valuation of the machinery and plant now employed in printing the forms to the party or parties whose tender may be accepted.

Ordered, that copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of Government Printing ; also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

AFGHAN SERVICES.

The following papers are published in the Gazette of India :—

India Office, London, 24th November, 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Honorable the Governor General of India in Council.

My Lord Marquis,—I have considered in Council your Military letter No. 343, dated 16th September, 1881, in which you bring to notice the services, during the late campaign in Afghanistan, of various Officers whose names were omitted in your Lordship's Minute of the 15th January, 1881.

2. It has afforded me satisfaction to receive a list of Officers in continuation of that which I acknowledged in my Despatch No. 136, of the 5th May last, and I desire to repeat the assurances I then gave the recognition of the services brought to notice, and to request that you will inform the several Officers whose names you now mention of the appreciation by Her Majesty's Government of the excellent service they rendered, as testified by your Lordship.— I have, &c.

HARTINGTON.

Letter from the Government of India, Military Department, to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 343, dated Simla, the 16th September, 1881.

1. Your Lordship's Military despatch No. 136, of the 5th of May, 1881, conveyed the concurrence of Her Majesty's Government in the approval recorded by the Viceroy, in a Minute dated the 15th January, 1881, of the services rendered by various civil and military officers during the late war in Afghanistan.

2. Your Lordship will have observed that the Minute and connected despatches have been published in our General Order No. 315 dated the 10th June, 1881. It has, however, come to our notice that there were certain omissions in the Minute—omissions which were perhaps unavoidable, bearing in mind the numerous officers and departments who were connected with the late war in Afghanistan, but which we would desire to rectify.

3. The Government of Bombay have lately submitted the names of certain civil officers in Sind who did valuable service when the resources of that province were so largely called upon during the operations of 1878-79 and 1879-80, namely,—(the late) Mr. F. D. Melville, C.S., Mr. H. N. B. Erskine, C.S., Mr. J. B. Peile, C.S., C.S.I., all of whom acted as Commissioners of Sind during the late war ; also the following officers :—Colonel W. R. Lambert, Collector of Karachi ; Colonel L. D'A. Dunsterville, Collector of Hyderabad ; Colonel R. R. Wallace, Collector of Shikarpur, and Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Trevor and Mr. G. Macleod, Acting Collectors of Shikarpur ; Major R. V. Malden, Acting Superintendent, Sind Frontier ; Mr. E. C. K. Ollivant, Personal Assistant to the Commissioner.

4. The Government of Bombay also bring to favourable notice the services of Lieutenant G. C. Parker, of the Indian Marine, who in his capacity of Harbour Master at Karachi did excellent work in connection with the disembarkation of large numbers of troops, followers and animals. and great quantities of war material of all kinds.

5. The following officers of the Political Department, whose names have not previously been brought to notice, also deserve mention :—Dr. H. W. Bellew, C.S.I.; Colonel T. E. Gordon, S.B., C.S.I. Lieutenant-Colonel E. S. Reynolds, Captain W. Loch, Major T. C. Plowden, Deputy Commissioner, Kohat ; Mr. F. W. Fryer, C.S., Deputy Commissioner, Dera Ghazi Khan ; Captain C. E. Yate ; Captain A. Muir ; Mr. A.F.D. Cunningham, C.S., C.S.I.; Major E. Conolly.

Dr. Bellew has been specially selected, in 1878, to accompany Sir Neville Chamberlain's projected mission to Kabul. In the autumn of 1879, when military operations began in Northern Afghanistan, Dr. Bellew proceeded, at the request of the Government of India, over the Shuturgardan to join Sir Frederick Roberts. He remained at Kabul during the winter months upon political duty ; and his knowledge of Afghan languages and large experience of the country proved useful.

Colonel T. E. Gordon joined the Kuram Field Force on special political duty in April, 1879. When General Roberts advanced on Kabul in the following September, Colonel Gordon assumed military and political charge of the Kurum Valley and the Hariob. The services rendered by him in this part of the country were of much value.

Lieutenant-Colonel Reynolds and Captain W. Loch did good service in Biluchistan, and Captain Loch also accompanied General Phayre's force in the advance to Kandahar. During the occupation of the Kuram Valley by British troops, Major Plowden exerted himself with much energy and success in maintaining communications and in preserving the peace of an important section of the frontier. He also accompained the Zamusht expedition in December, 1879.

Mr. F. W. Fryer was employed in 1878 and 1879 upon the Biluch border, and in the operations connected with the march of Major-General Biddulph's force to Quetta. His local knowledge and influence enabled him to afford material assistance.

Captain C. E. Yate and Captain A. Muir did well in Southern Afghanistan during the British occupation of the country, the former especially at Khelati-Ghilzai, the latter at Kandahar.

Mr. Cunningham and Major Conolly were at different tmes entrusted with the management of the Khyber, where their services were of marked value. Mr. Cunningham was also selected to accompany Mr. Griffin to Kabul.

6. The omission to allude to the services of the Medical Department with the Government of India, in a Minute which dealt with civil services alone, arose from the circumstance that the late head of this department was included among the officers recommended to the notice of the Government of India by the Commander-in-Chief for military services during the war, the fact being that, until the late changes in the administrative organisation of the Medical Services, the Surgeon-General, Her Majesty's Forces, was more directly connected with the Commander-in-Chief than with the Government of India. But the services rendered by the Army and Indian Medical Departments to the Government of India were valuable and conspicuous. The superintendence of the medical service at the beginning of the war was under Surgeon-General Ker-Innes, C.B., of the Army Medical Department, and Surgeon-General Beatson, at that time at the head of the Indian Medical Service in Bengal, and was afterwards conducted in a very successful manner by the present able head of the Army Medical Department in India, Surgeon-General Crawford, M.D., Surgeon-General Cunnigham, M.D., as Surgeon-General with the Government of India, was also largely concerned in the successful administration of the medical services ; we desire to bring to the notice of Her Majesty's Government the services performed by these officers.

7. The Services of the Survey Department in the field have already been recognised by the promotion of several of the military officers belonging to it ; but the good work done by Messrs. Scott, Ogle, Price, Claudius and McNair, civil officers of the department in the field, deserves to be publicly recorded ; while it is due to the head of the Survey Department, Lieutenant-General Walker, C. B., R. E., to notice with approbation the assistance rendered to the military operations in the prompt supply of maps and plans, and the general efficiency with which the work of his department in all branches was conducted.

8. The Bengal Clothing Department, under the superintendence of Colonel B. Walton, C. I. E., met the sudden demand for a large supply of warm clothing in a prompt and efficient manner.

9. The names of several officers in the Commissariat and Transport Departments of the Army have already been brought to notice in the Viceroy's Minute ; but there are two officers whose names were omitted from the Minute : as their services were commended to Her Majesty's Government in forwarding the list of officers whom His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief considered deserving of reward, Lieutenant-Colonel J. O. Travers, the General Transport Officer of the Khyber Line Force, whose duties confined him mainly to the base at Peshawar ; and Captain R. Patch, Deputy Assistant Commissary-General, who, although he served in the field in the first phase of the campaign, was during the latter portion of the operations in charge of the great field depôt at Peshawar, from which the main bulk of the supplies of the Army were forwarded with admirable regularity and precision to the troops in the front. Lieutenant-General Sir M. Kennedy, late Controller-General of Supply and Transport, brought the services of these officers especially to notice in his report on the operations of supply and transport during the second campaign.

G. Chesney, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India.

BENGAL.

Theatricals in Calcutta.—Herr Bandmann's company, who have taken the Corinthian Theatre, and will give us a series of first-class plays, Shakespearean and others, in a style never before attempted in Calcutta, for the simple reason that we have never before had so famous an actor of Shakespeare's great characters amongst us. Both the Autralian and American papers speak very highly of the talents of the leading lady, Miss Beaudet ; and I am given to understand that the other members of the company are good all round. As many of the educated natives profess to be great admirers of Shakespeare's plays, they will, no doubt, attract a good attendance of both Europeans and natives. The company make their first appearance to-night.—Saturday's Englishman's Weekly.

Fire on Board a Ship.—A fire broke out at 12-15 P. M. yesterday (December 23) on board the B. S. Ellen Stewart, which was at the time lying alongside Jetty No. 2. The fire originated in the hold of the vessel which was stored with a large number of drums of jute. The jetty engine was soon on the spot, and together with the assistance rendered by some of the jetty assistants, full ten hoses were put in operation. Not long after the tug boat Hetty arrived and towed the Ellen Stewart off Jetty No. 6 where both the engines were at work. The Ellen Stewart, commanded by Captain J. E. Peterson, is a vessel of 1,120 tons, and is consigned to Messrs. Schoene, Kilburn & Co. Only yesterday she obtained her Custom House clearance, and was bound for London with a cargo of saltpetre, which was stocked between decks, and linseed. Great apprehensions were entertained that the fire would find its way to the saltpetre, but every precaution was taken to prevent this occurrence. The fire had not been extinguished till a late hour yesterday evening.

CHRISTMAS IN CALCUTTA.

Of all the towns in Indnia, Calcutta is the place where one can properly enjoy his Christmas holiday. The season of Christmas, despite the scruples of some, is one of rejoicing, and by common consent of old and young, one of feasting.

From the time of its institution in Calcutta, the Great Eastern Hotel initiated a sort of a feast or carnival on Christmas Eve, and has year by year developed it to such a general and perfect extent that the public look for it—and would miss it greatly if it was to be discontinued. For this year especially, there has been a display of extra good things, and the visit last evening of the Hon'ble Sir Ashley Eden, the Lieutenant-Governor, was a sign that he was glad to manifest his appreciation of the success which has of late years attended the hard-working management.

Sir Ashley Eden and party were received at the northern entrance of the Hotel by Mr. Cummings, Secretary, and Mr. Gregory, the Manager, who conducted them through all the rooms. His Honour asked many questions regarding the various articles exhibited, very particularly about the qualities of the meat shown in the large pantry, where Mr. Gregory must have been proud to hear the encomiums passed on the success of his farm by Sir Ashley. Coming again through the rooms his Honour viewed the various specimens of work, and put Mr. Cummings numerous questions regarding them.

The Monster Cake, crowned on this occasion with a model of Windsor Castle in winter, the production of one of the first cake-ornament artists in London, alone will well repay a visit to the hall. It will be on view to-day. There are, as usual, an imperial body-guard of lesser cakes superbly ornamented, together with thousands of prettily designed card boxes, satchels, and other curiously devised contrivances for exchanging socially and lovingly the compliments of the festive season ; also an endless variety of amusing and instructive toys."

The two large handsome cases in the north entrance to the hotel are in themselves a beautiful sight, laid out with all the taste and uniform arrangements of first class European supervision that is always in this establishment found in plenty, for nowhere are there more Europeans on a staff. The contents of the cases reflect great credit on Mr. Finchett, who arrayed them in such uniform good taste so as to tempt the most parsimonious visitor into making a purchase, even against his will, or the command of his pocket. The contents represent articles of the best French, German, American, and London markets ; and the articles are displayed from the low price of one rupee up to Rs. 1,000 each. A notable part of the show is two elaborately carved models of Swiss cottages, on opening the door of which a musical box, concealed inside, plays popular airs, as also a magnificent bronze casket, the workmanship of which is elaborate and chaste.

Before leaving, Mr. Cummings intimated to Sir Ashley that in consequence of his visit he had pushed on the completion of the decorations, &c., and trusted his Honour was satisfied with all he had seen. On behalf of the Company, Mr. Cnmmings expressed his deep sense of appreciation of the distinguished honour Sir Ashley had conferred in visiting the place. Sir Ashley, who was much pleased, thanked Mr. Cummings for his attention, and expressed himself highly gratified with all he had seen.

A band composed of the kitmudgars of the hotel played the National Antnem on the arrival and departure of Sir Ashley, and did their part of the programme very creditably indeed.—Statesman.

COURTS-MARTIAL.

At a general court-martial, assembled at Bareilly on the 18th November, Private Thomas Cole, of the 1st Battalion South Yorkshire Regiment of Light Infantry, was charged with having, at Bareilly, on the 5th of November, struck with his clenched first Sergeant James Keogh, of the same battalion, the said Sergeaut James Keogh being his superior officer, and being in the execution of his office. The court found the prisoner guilty, and sentenced him to penal servitude for five years. The Commander-in-Chief confirmed the proceedings and sentence.

At a general court-martial, assembled at Meerut on the 21st November, Private Robert Wilson, of the 1st Battalion Durham Light Infantry, was arraigned on the following charges :—(1) With having, at Meerut, on the 7th November, when a prisoner in the regimental cells undergoing the sentence of a district court-martial, and when brought before his commanding officer for making a frivolous complaint, and being awarded a minor punishment of twenty-four hours' bread and water, used insubordinate language to Major Charles Covey, of the same battalion, his superior officer, in substance and to the effect following ; that is to say,—"I will not do it, I will be tried by court-martial first." (2) With having, when being marched from the orderly room to the cells, offered violence against Provost Sergeant Charles Davis, of the same battalion, by attempting to strike him ; at the same time using insubordinate language to him, in substance and to the effect following ; that is to say,—"I will give you a bat in the . . . . eye,"—the said Provost Sergeant Charles Davis being his superior officer, and being in the execution of his office. The court found the prisoner guilty of both charges and sentenced him to penal servitude for five years, and further to be discharged with ignominy from Her Majesty's service. The Commander-in-Chief has confirmed the decision of the Court.

MADRAS.

Deaths in Madras.—From the 10th to the 16th instant 5 East Indians, 13 Native Christians, 216 Hindoos and 38 Mahomedans died in Madras, making a total of 272 persons. The average of the corresponding week for the ten previous years was 299. The deaths are thus classified ; 10 from small-pox, 2 from measles, 74 from fever, 32 from dysentery, 12 from diarrhœa, 2 from cholera, and 140 from other diseases. The population, according to the last census, being 379,552, the death-rate in the week under notice was at the rate of 35·4 per 1,000 per annum. The mean of the ten previous years was 39·1 per 1,000 per annum.

N.-W. PROVINCES, OUDH, AND PUNJAB.

Silk Growing in Northern India.—The prospects of the newly established silk industry in the Dun appear to be highly satisfactory. Messrs. Lister and Co., of Bradford, who have been connected with this work for some time, took over the business from Government in February last, and from that time all direct connexion of Government with it ceased. This in itself is a good sign. A piece of waste land has also been granted the firm for the cultivation of mulberry trees, and some 20 acres have been planted. The agent of the firm, Mr. Lepper, also has done much to encourage the ryots to take to the rearing of silk worms ; and it is said the operation is becoming very popuplar. It furnishes employment to women and children when there is little else to be done, and the prices to be obtained leave an ample margin of profit for the expenses incurred. A maund of cocoons are estimated to cost the cultivator Rs. 12 all told ; whereas the firm reaps a profit after giving even Rs. 30 for the same quantity. The industry is encouraged further by the distribution of medals and rewards, though these inducements will probably not be needed much longer. As Messrs. Lister have announced their intention of buying up all the cocoons that are offered, the ryots of the Dun have a happy prospect before them. The difficulty at present appears to lie in obtaining a sufficiency of melberry trees.

THE LAHORE EXHIBITION.

Visitors will, on entering, find themselves in a small room of the Charboorjah, where the first objects to attract their attention are sure to be some extremely effective printed cottons, lent by Mr. Purdon Clarke, the gentleman now in India buying for the South Kensington Museum, and a charming mantel-piece and over-mantel, in carved wood—Simla work—which many will, we think, recognise as an old friend from Barnes Court. Passing into the centre room of the Charboorjah, we find ourselves among all the treasures of the South Kensington loan-articles brought for the Museum by Mr. Clarke, and kindly lent by him on the present occasion. Here are Cashmere carpets, old and new, and some of pashminah which are extremely beautiful, and a large number of perfect specimens of various kinds of metal-work, including two old quaint silver lotas. Much of this metal needs close examination to discover all its beauties, and we fear that many visitors may leave the Exhibition without a proper appreciation of it. Passing into a small room off the centre one, we find a number of maps, books, desks, &c., sent by the Director of Public Instruction, and a very nicely finished set of electrical apparatus, the whole of which has been made in Lahore, and reflects the very greatest credit on all concerned in its manufacture. Passing towards the long and spacious annexe which connects the Charboorjah with the new School of Arts, we come into a small room in which are tables covered with those extraordinary looking and impossible gods in which the Hindoo eye delighteth, the walls all hung with gaily embroidered cotton, and the room further decorated with a quantity of metal-work. Descending some steps we find ourselves in one of the arms of the annexe we have mentioned. Along either wall and down the centre are cases and tables, while pendent from the roof is a rare show of dhurries and carpets from various places, and the walls are adorned with trophies of arms (principally lent), native pictures, armour, &c. The first article which strikes our attention as we go towards the new School of Arts are some fine specimens of porcelain, some magnificent embroidered purdahs, some charming carved woodwork from Ahmedabad—all "loaned," to use the new coined word, which for some reason or other is preferred to "lent"—and a collection of birds and skins from Major Marshall, together with some extremely curious old metal-work from the Chumba State. Passing on we come to some beautiful models in wood, finished with all the care and elaboration of detail which so often characterises the work of the Oriental. Here, too, are some handsome carvings in ivory, a number of ancient and curious objects "too numerous to mention," and a silver chair, and silver-plated angheti, the walls being hung with some fine weapons on loan, and some of the cases being filled with similar objects. Still going forward, we come to cases filled with silver articles, jewels, elaborate and gorgeous hookahs, and a variety of curious and valuable objects, nearly all "loaned." We now arrive at the central entrance, and a visitor entering by this door will find the objects already mentioned in our brief description, on his right hand, while those we shall now endeavour to enumerate will be found on his left. Here is a most complete and excellent collection of Gujerat work, and, as a collection, with the exception perhaps of carpets, it is the most complete in the Exhibition. Here, too, are some exceedingly handsome silver articles (lent by a number of European and native gentlemen), including some beautiful prizes won by Major Baily and Captain Ottely with the rifle ; and a great show of lacquer and brass work.

We next come to a collection of swords, a number of cases filled with swords and daggers of various patterns, some exteremely cleverly coloured models of snakes from the Mayo School of Arts and some lovely specimens of inlaid marbles. Beyond this, on the left, a large bag is fitted up as a little sitting room, with a number of extremely pretty and valuable articles, and furnished in charming taste. It is quite a little gem, and the thanks of the Committee and the public are due to the lady whose perfect taste and untiring energy have produced such a charming effect, not only in this little room—which was arranged entirely by her—but we feel sure also in various other parts of the Exhibition.

Some panels of lacquer work, which are placed on some of the pillars of the building at this point, are extremely beautiful and well worth inspection, as are two specimens of doors, one of wood inlaid with brass, and the other with ivory. A case in the cerntre contains a quaint set of chessmen made out of coloured stone, with a board to match, the squares being inlaid, and some others in ivory and coloured woods. Here we enter on the wood-work section, and very beautiful most of the exhibits are, while over our heads is festooned a gorgeous embroidered silk musnud from the Raja of Kapurthalla, which is deserving of a careful examination. We are now at the bend of the L formed by the junction of the two annexes and in the region of wood-work of various sorts, while on our left are many beautiful objects from the Mayo School of Arts, including some handsome screens, almirahs, an experimental dadoe, &c. Before leaving the furniture court, we must notice two gorgeous copies of window heads of perforated work, executed in Ahmedabad for the Associated Artists' Society of New York, to the order of Mr. Lockwood de Forest, and kindly lent by that gentleman ; and also a mantel-piece and over-mantel of sisham wood, carved and inlaid, from Hushiarpur, of singularly quaint design, and on sale for Rs. 170. Passing out of the furniture court into the second annexe, we come to a number of articles made on European models, such as baskets, lawn-tennis and badminton bats, &c., and then to a case of sample of silk, raw and dyed, poshteens, and other leather and fur exhibts, saddles and bridles (native), and cases of the most gorgeous embroideries on various fabrics. Here also is an interesting case illustrating the manufacture of Tassa silk. We now come to cases filled with Cashmere's choicest manufactures in endless variety—embroideries, shawls, pashmina, silver and copper wrought into the graceful forms and with the delicacy for which the valley is so famous.

Here is a frame containing what we fear many may pass by without noticing—a number of patterns of Cashmere embroidery executed in miniature for Mr. Lockwood de Forest and lent by him as specimens of design and needlework; they are beyond praise, and yet occupy such a small, unassuming frame, that, as we say, many will doubtless pass them by without noticing them.

On the visitors' right hangs a curious Takht-Pesh from Guzerat (Bombay), lent by Mr. de Forest. It consists of a handsome wooden lounge railed in on three sides and hung on brass chains or supports, wrought into grotesque shapes and figures. On the tables beyond are a great show of silk pugris, and in a case in the centre of the annexe a really lovely collection of silks—showing the different tones and colours in which they can be dyed—from Hushiarpur. Beyond this, we come to more valuable Cashmere articles, embroideries and metal-work, much of which will doubtless find a purchaser before the Exhibition closes. Some ivory carvings, a fair collection of brass-work, and a case of Kangra Valley teas, bring us to the head of the annexe, which is filled with specimens of printing from the S. P. and D. Railway Press, and also printing machines from the same place, and hung round with a number of fine carpets. We are now at the entrance to the new School of Art, and going in, find ourselves in a room containing much of interest. Here are a number of excellent views of Cashmere by Mr. de Forest, a charming set of dessert plates by Mr. Kipling, representing nos intimes—our kitmutgars, bearers, durzis, &c.—with an appropriate motto on each; a number of pictures by native artists; a set of paintings of the armorial bearings of the Chiefs of the Punjab, executed for Sir Robert Egerton by the Mayo School of Arts, and a large number of designs of various descriptions from the same valuable institution. Turning to the right we enter a room, the centre of which is occupied by a collection of pottery lent by Mr. David Ross, and the walls of which are decorated with carpets and a large number of casts from the School of Arts.

The next room is filled with specimens of experiments in pottery from the same place, and the one beyond—the last of the set—with a capital show of Hushiarpur glass, and some beautiful carpets from the Industrial School at that place. Retracing our steps and passing through the three rooms we have traversed, we enter one filled with specimens of native printing and book-binding, and if by this time we are exhausted by our perambulations and pass to the room beyond, we shall there find refreshment for the inner man.

In the foregoing remarks we have omitted to mention a very remarkable astronomical clock, kindly lent by Raja Hurban Singh, and made in Lahore by one Chiri Bhagat in the time of Runjit Singh. The clock shows the position of the sun, moon, day of the month, year, Mahomedan, Hindoo and Christian, &c., in addition to the time, and is going, to all appearances, as well as when it was made. Close by this clock are some fine MSS., one of the Shahnama, or lives of the Kings of the Moghul dynasty, and another an illuminated copy of the Gulistan or Garden of Roses; and in the same case is a remarkably fine specimen of leather, stamped and gilt. These articles are all in the centre of the annexe, near to the Gujerat work and jewels.

Below is a list of the districts exhibiting, and classes into which the exhibits are divided. Where several districts exhibit one class, the exhibits are arranged according to the order of the districts in the accompanying list:

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE POPE.

THE Standard (of Nov. 25) says it is clear from telegrams received from Rome that we may shortly expect some important intelligence on the subject of what has been described as "Mr. Errington's mission to Rome;" that it seems clear that the English Government are employing Mr. Errington in a sort of unofficial capacity, and that they contemplate the establishment, in some way or other, of direct diplomatic communication with the Pope. "The motive that notoriously inspires Mr. Errington's mission, and the policy for which it is intended to prepare the way, would of itself be enough to discredit, and to excite a strong opposition to the appointment of an English Representative at the Vatican. If there were no Irish difficulty the idea would the never have been heard of any more than would the Irish Land Act if there had been no Land League. It seems to have occurred to the Government that, all other expedients having proved ineffectual, it might be wise to make the experiment of pacifying Ireland through the Papacy. Now, the only argument that can be urged in favour of the course which Mr. Errington's presence at Rome is supposed to indicate, is that an agent accredited by England to the Vatican would enable us to treat directly with the chief authority of the Roman Catholic Church. But is there any other argument which can be seriously urged in favour of action which the Government at least meditate? It is true we are brought into contact at many points in our Indian Empire with the authority of the Roman Catholic Church and much has been said about 'the Catholic vicariates in the diocese of Goa and elsewhere.' It was even declared a little time ago that these—and not Ireland—were the real subject of Mr. Errington's errand. But if the institution of the new vicariates interferes with our administration of India, that is an Imperial matter, and we have a clear ground of complaint against the Portuguese Government, which claims a protectorate over the vicariates. England surely has it in her power to place such pressure upon the authorities at Lisbon as would relieve us of all trouble on this score.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers throughout the world. Sold wholesale by The Anglo American Drug Company, Limited, 33, Farringdon-road, London.

HOMING INSTINCT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "GLOBE."

SIR,—To the interesting article on "Pigeons" in this evening's Globe, I should be glad to add a few words which will bear on the "homing" powers which are attributed to their exercise of "sight and memory." These will scarcely afford a satisfactory explanation of the marvellous homeward flight of pigeons, when it is remembered that the same faculty of returning home is displayed by various quadrupeds, and among them by dogs and cats, which have been known to find their way home from places to and from which they had never seen the way, and consequently, in respect of which neither sight nor memory could have been brought into play. The following occurred some years ago in Australia:—Some young cattle were driven from the locality where they were bred in a westerly direction about 80 miles, and then in a southerly direction about 100 miles. These animals returned home, and it was ascertained that they did not retrace their journey from home, but actually travelled in a direct line, thus completing a triangular course, the homeward route making the third side of the triangle. Thus neither sight nor memory could have been of any avail to them, and of course they had received no training whatever. I have long taken much interest in this subject of homing, but have never been able to arrive at any other conclusion than that the brute creation possess a faculty of locality which is scarcely known to and not intelligible to mankind. On one occasion I was sanguine of success at solving the mystery. I met a young man in the bush whom I had known of as a lad. He was the son of a respectable settler, reared to bush life, and at the time a police-constable. I talked to him on the subject, and he assured me that he had often gone out into the bush (forest), put up a kangaroo, ridden it down, killed it, and hung it in a tree; that he had then ridden away until, starting another kangaroo, he had in like manner disposed of it, and so on through the day until the time arrived for returning home, when he went from tree to tree, often miles apart, and collected his game. He assured me that he had always been able to make the tree exactly, except in one case, when he made a point only a few yards distant from it. I naturally thought that I should learn from him, and he was very intelligent, by what process, after following the rapid flights of kangaroos for miles in various directions, he could return so unerringly to the different trees; but he was utterly at fault, and could give no explanation whatever. Any one who has witnessed the flight of a kangaroo, not inaptly compared to that of a skyrocket, will see at once that neither sight nor memory would have been of any appreciable use in such a case. I may add that I entirely believe in the truth of this young man's statement, and only regret that he was unable to explain the possession of the homing faculty which he undoubtedly possessed. Numberless Australian bushmen could, after a day's horse or cattlehunting in various directions, finally, by following what is called the "lay" of the country, make their way home through a trackless forest. I should be curious to know whether any others possessed the faculty above described.—Yours faithfully, W.

Kensington, November 23.

[The case of the kangaroo hunter is curious, but, following the "lay" of the country is purely a matter of observation and intelligence.—ED. The Globe.]

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.
ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.
From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic, Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

DR. DE ROOS'
CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.
THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which is here offered to the world; and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all corroborate the most sanguine of the Inventor's hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients, testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to numbers of debilitated individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in thorough good health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by the faculty as incurable, and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.
This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength to the most shattered constitutions. It not only strengthens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite, and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in the climates) suffer from langour and relaxation, as also all persons going to the East or West Indies should provide themselves with this important article of health.
Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine, for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion, renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly gild the autumn of declining years, and, in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable; giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, 11s. and 33s. per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.
COMPOUND RENAL PILLS
Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder, and diseases of the Kidney and Urinary Organs generally.
These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health, and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packages, 1s. 1½d., 2s.9d., 4s.6d., 11s., and 33s.
THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD.
PILULÆ VITÆ OF VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS,
which speedily, and almost magically, remove pain and diseases of whatever nature, restore cheerfulness to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strengthen all the organs on which health and life depend: they do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable; and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bile, sick headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, the sensations of fulness at the pit of the stomach, pains between the shoulders, and th distress arising from indigestion and general debility they will be found of unexampled efficacy. They act mildly on the bowels, without pain or griping, impart strength to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, clear the skin, remove sallowness or pimples, purify the blood, brace the nerves, and marvellously invigorate the whole system. Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s. per box
Every package of Dr. De Roos' preparations bears the Government Stamp with the words "WALTER DE ROOS, London" in White Letters on a Red Ground, by order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners, without which none can possibly be genuine. DR. DE ROOS' world-famed Medicines may be obtained of Messrs. TREACHER & Co., Limited, Bombay; B.S. MADON & Co., Bombay; BARRIE & Co., Madras; WEST, Brigade Road, Bangalore; LYELL, Allahabad; DOOLY SING and LALL SING, Delhi; SMITH, STANISTREET & Co., Calcutta; and all the principal Merchants in India.
IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The Public are respectfully informed that the DR. DE ROOS' Pills are not sold in loose quantities, but only in Packages, at the aforementioned prices. Intending purchasers are specially cautioned not to be deluded into buying so-called "Guttæ Vitæ" or "Renal Pills," but in every case specially to ask for (and accept no other but) DR. DE ROOS' "Guttæ Vitæ" or DR. DE ROOS' "Renal Pills."
IMPORTANT TO YOUNG MEN.—Debilitated and nervous sufferers should read the "Medical Adviser," by DR. DE ROOS, on secret abuses, nervous debility, depression of spirits, and confirmed melancholy, too frequently traceable to certain pernicious habits acquired in early life. Price one Rupee, of any of the Agents for DR DE ROO'S Medicines.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER and Co., London. Sold by TREACHER and Co.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections and in wasting disease, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonics, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition. Sold by TREACHER & Co.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLNI—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER will darken grey hair, and in a few days completely bring back the natural colour. The effect is superior to that produced by an instantaneous dye, and does not injure the skin.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. It produces a perfectly natural shade, and is absolutely harmless. Recommended for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIRRESTORER.—No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottles, 1s. 6d. Sold by Chemists, Hair-dressers, and Perfumers in London, and throughout the world.
Lockyer's is equal to any of the high-priced preparations. Sold by TREACHER & Co.

DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE,
THE SAFEST AND ONLY RELIABLE PREPARATION OF PHOSPHORUS.
Multitudes of people are hopelessly suffering from Debility, Nervous and Liver Complaints, Depression of Spirits, Timidity, Indigestion, Lassitude, Want of Power, &c., whose cases admit of a permanent cure by the new remedy, DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE (Ozonic Oxygen), which at once allays all irritation and excitement, imparts new energy and life to the enfeebled constitution, and rapidly cures every stage of these hitherto incurable and distressing maladies.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE is acknowledged by the first medical men in Europe as the most efficacious medicine hitherto discovered for Weak and Shattered Constitutions, Nervous Debility, Aversion or Incapacity for Study, Indigestion, Female Complaints, Flatulence, Liver Complaints, Shortness of Breath, Pains in the Head, Pimples, Impoverished Blood, and all diseases caused by a long residence in tropical climates, for which iron, mercury, iodide of potass, &c., are given in various forms, often to the destruction of the patient's health.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE.—Until the introduction of DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE, Phosphorus was but seldom prescribed as a medicine, owing to the difficulty in so preparing it that its action could be kept under perfect control. It had been used in Almond and Olive Oils in Sulphuric Ether, in Rectified Alcohol, in Chloroform, and in several advertised medicines; but, in all the hitherto known methods of its preparation, certain irregular results have been experienced. But in the form of DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE, its invaluable action on the human system is realized without an of those drawbacks which other modes of preparation invariably produce.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE is prepared on a NEW PRINCIPLE, by which all possible risk and disagreeable after effects are entirely prevented.
Caution.—Avoid Phosphorus in the form of Pills or Lozenges, as they frequently contain SOLID PARTICLES of Phosphorus, which accumulate in the system, causing serious evils.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE agreeable to the Palate and innocent in its action, while retaining all its extraordinary properties, and as a specific surpasses all the known Therapeutic agents of the present day.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE—Its use enables all debilitated organs to perform their natural functions. Persons suffering from Nervous Debility, or any of the hundred symptoms which this distressing disease assumes, may rest assured of an effectual cure by the use of this most invaluable remedy.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE.—The ONLY medicine of that name granted certificates by Her Majesty's Registrar of Trade Marks. Beware of counterfeit Phosphodynes and worthless imitations bearing similar names; they are in no way recognized by the medical profession. Being prepared from OBSOLETE Formulas, they are absolutely unreliable, and in some cases positively dangerous.
DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE
Is Sold in Cases only by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the Globe.
Full Directions for use in the English, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Danish, Turkish, Persian, Hindostani, Madrassee, Bengallee, Chinese, and Japanese Languages accompany each case, without which none can possibly be genuine Phosphodyne. Every case bears the Trade Mark and Signature of Patentee.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 28.

THE past week has been almost a blank as far as business is concerned. The Banks closed for the Christmas holidays immediately last mail left, and are only open again this morning. They re main open to-day and to-morrow, and again close till Tuesday morning, the 3rd January. A certain amount of Shipping and Import trade has of course gone on, but the Stock markets have all been closed and Exchange business has been a blank for this morning. Even general business from first hands has been nearly at a stand. The produce markets are all quiet. Most merchants' offices have been wholly or partially closed, and very few of the Piece-goods dealers have come to the front.

COTTON.—Some small business has been done in this staple during the holidays. The accounts from home have not been of a stimulating character. Prices are no doubt maintained, but the demand does not seem active. Yet, in spite of the general reduction in estimates of the New Crop, does confidence in the future seem very strong. The market here has therefore been very dull and dragging during the week. The amount of business put through has not been large, and prices have been gradually and steadily on the decline.

The Oomras Crop is now coming in freely both to this port and to the screwing depôts up-country, and it is consequently being now rather pressed for sale, and the rates quoted are very weak. The following are the current rates of the day, and they show a considerable reduction in our last mail's quotations, viz., from 3 to 5 rupees.

Oomras Good	Rs. 200
Do. Fully Good Fair	,, 190
Do. Good Fair	,, 185

We also quote at the following :—

Bengals Fair	Rs. 186
Do. Fully Good	,, 177
Do. Good	,, 168
Do. Fully Good Fair	,, 161

In Broach and Dholleras the transactions are for forward delivery and rates are better maintained. We give the following as current quotations :—

Broach Good, March ... Rs. 288 April ... Rs. 327
Dholleras Good, March ... ,, 233
Do. Fair, April ... ,, 212
Hingunghur Good ..... ,, 326

The receipts for this week are 26,976 bales compared to 34,724 bales last week, and the falling-off is no doubt due to the holidays.

The following are the figures for the two last years of the movements of cotton up to date :—

	1881	1880	1879
Receipts for week.	26,976	14,513	8,914
Do. since 1st January	13,12,576	11,99,823	8,83,764

The clearances for sea during the past week have been 17,688 bales, and the total clearances to date 10,46,960 bales, against 7,741 bales and 9,31,722 bales in the same periods of the year 1880. The cotton afloat in the harbour is 11,760 bales, against 8,042 bales last week.

WHEAT.—The arrivals are still on a considerable scale, and amount for the week to 199,949 cwt., while the shipments are given at 219,544 cwt. The market is quiet, but we do not make any alterations in our quotations.

SEEDS are also quiet, but prices are fairly steady and we do not alter our quotations. The receipts of Linseed for the week are 9,363 cwt.

PIECE-GOODS AND YARNS.—It has been a dull week in both of these and in all descriptions. The up-country buyers have not been very active, and the take-off from the Bazaar has been decidedly less during the fortnight. The dealers look forward with some confidence to a renewal of the demand; but the arrivals of goods are heavy, and many of the offices being closed for the holidays, the dealers have come little about, but have rather endeavoured by remaining in their shops to clear as many of their old purchases as possible. Prices are nominally about the same, but dealers are for the time very full of stock of all kinds and little new business can be done.

METALS.—Copper and yellow, though not heavy in stock in the Bazaar, and though £84 and 7½d. are still quoted from England, do not move up to corresponding prices as quickly as might be expected. The best we can quote for Copper is Rs. 50½, and for yellow metal Rs. 40½. No doubt if prices keep up in England and importers are firm we may easily have a material improvement when the stock here begins to get exhausted.

EXCHANGE closed very steady for last mail, and opens again the same to-day. Owing to the holidays, however, the amount of business done has been small. We quote on London :—

Demand.	3 months'	4 months'	6 months' sight.
Bank Bills is. 8d.	1s. 8 7-32d.	1s. 8 9-32d.	1s. 8 5-16d.
Credits	1s. 8 5-16d.		1s. 8d.
Documents	1s. 8d.		1s. 8 9-16d.

On Paris the quoted rate for 3 months is 214 to 214½.

On Calcutta the rate is firm at par to 1-16 premium, and a fair amount of business has been put through.

The rate is 224 for sixty days' sight, but is a great extent nominal.

The Money market is still tight, but the Bank of Bombay, not advancing its rate last week, has had a reassuring effect on things generally. The returns of the Bank showed an increase in the advances of about 23 lakhs, but deposits had increased by about a like amount; so that the cash balances and cash and currency notes remained almost unaltered.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been quiet, but steadier, and we now quote 100¾ for 4 per cent. and 109½ for 4½, which represent a recovery from the lowest point of ¼ to ⅜ per cent.

Bank, Press, and Land shares are steady, but they did not share in the panic and our quotations are little altered. Spinning shares have recovered to a great extent, and there is no longer the panic feeling with regard to them that existed ten days ago. The more depressed have recovered Rs. 40 to Rs. 50 on the lowest points touched, and there has also been a smaller advance almost all round. The share market, however, is closed till the 3rd proximo, and our remarks above apply to the closing quotations for the evening of the 22nd instant.

The Bombay Gazette

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1881.

No announcement of new constitutional arrangements was made at Baroda yesterday, and none was expected in well-informed circles. The administration will be carried on for a year, or possibly for two years, by Sir T. Madhava Rao, if his health permits him to keep office so long. The system of Government will be regularised according to the method following. The Dewan, Kazi Shahabudin, Pestonjee Jehangher, Venayakrao Kerthane, and Manabhoi Yessabhoy will form a council. The Dewan's casting vote will decide in cases of disagreement. Decisions arrived at will be submitted to the Gaekwar. In matters appertaining to legislation they will be submitted to a consultative council consisting of the Ministers, the Judges of the Chief Court, and four others. Besides Ministers, the Sirdars will be represented, and also merchants, by five additional members. The council will be consultative only, legislative power still residing in the Sovereign. This arrangement is undoubtedly a step in advance; but it is a misapplication of the term to call it a constitution. If it be a constitution, then India itself is a constitutional country, and so for that matter is Bombay and all the presidencies, which have councils, with additional members and all the rest of it.

SUCH brief season of cold weather as is vouchsafed us in India will soon be past and gone, and many longing eyes will be eagerly turned homeward. Year by year does the crowd of Anglo-Indians hurrying to England between March and June grow more dense. When a man, after a few years' residence in this country, makes up his mind that he must really go home for a year or so, the undertaking seems a most formidable one. There is the breaking up of an establishment, the selling off of familiar household gods, and the long journey by sea and land. These considerations often combine to keep a man from going to England for several years after his first arrival in this country. But when once he has broken the ice, he finds the whole thing so simple and easy, that he wonders why he did not go home long before, and he resolves in future to spend as much of his time in England as his circumstances permit. And this feeling so grows on many residents in India, that whenever they find three months at their disposal, it seems the most natural thing in the world to take a passage in the P. and O., and after twenty days of not uncomfortable travelling, to sit down to breakfast at the Club at 14, St. James's. But our present object is to dwell on some aspects of that first visit to England, which is made after so much anxious consideration and calculation of ways and means, which is looked forward to with such eager anticipation, and the result of which is frequently so very disappointing. Let us illustrate our meaning with a familiar instance, and take one case as typical of a good many. Captain Jones has been out in India for a dozen years without taking any furlough. He has not been very successful in his calling, but, as becomes a worthy member of a gallant profession, he has grappled boldly with the problems of life, and is richer by a wife and four children than he was when he left England. It is on their account that he finally decides to take furlough, and the result of much adding up of mysterious figures on paper shows him that after paying passage money for his large party, and deducting other expenses incidental to such a move, he will land in England with about three hundred pounds to his credit. This, with his moderate furlough pay, will make him very comfortable, he considers, and he begins to indulge in blissful visions of a [illegible] near enough to London to permit of his frequently running up to town to see what is going on. It is not necessary to say much about Jones's journey home. Those who have travelled from Bombay to London with a family of young children probably retain a vivid remembrance of that experience. Mrs. Jones is prostrated by sickness, and the two ayahs lie about the deck, limp and motionless. The monotony of their groans is only broken by a shrill scream as some stout passenger stumbles over their prostrate figures, or carefully and with much deliberation sits down on them under the impression that they are bales of cloth. As they cannot be roused to any exertion, the whole care of the four children devolves on poor Jones, who, when he isn't engaged in trying to get the baby off to sleep, is rushing about after the elder children, the great object of whose existence seems to be to endeavour to clamber overboard. At the children's dinner hour, it is a beautiful sight to see Jones desperately fighting his way through the crowd of mothers and ayahs who are all bent on securing for their own children the most savoury dish on the table. But this, like everything else, comes to an end, and Jones having arrived in England, proceeds to look about for that cheap but commodious house, close to London, yet quite in the country, which is the object of his ambition, and which, we may remark in passing, is the haven of rest and comfort existing only in the imagination of inexperienced people from India. In the meantime, and until he can hit upon this desirable residence, Jones has to go into lodgings. But even this step, simple as it seems, is attended with difficulties, and he is surprised and disgusted to observe that all the lodging house-keepers entertain a strong objection to children in general, and an almost insuperable dislike to Indian children. When he has looked over some lodgings that he thinks will suit, and has been obliged to answer in the affirmative, the landlady's suspicious query as to children, he is hurt to find that the good lady shows him out at the front door with more speed than politeness. At last he finds some one who takes him in as a great favour, and makes an excellent thing out of him while he is prosecuting his search for the mansion of his dreams. Of course he doesn't find it, and after a month's search gives it up, and retires with what content he may to a quiet little watering-place, far enough away from London, but where houses are tolerably cheap. But on settling the bill for his lodgings, a fresh surprise awaits him. He absolutely stares at the amount his landlady charges him for damages, caused, it appears, by the destructive propensities of his children. From the landlady's account it would seem that the young people have not only destroyed the chintz of the sofas, ruined the

THE BARODA FESTIVITIES.

INVESTITURE OF THE GAEKWAR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BARODA, Dec. 28.

The investiture of the Gaekwar with powers of administration took place this morning with great pomp and ceremony. A large number of civil and military officers were present, and all the chief State officials.

The streets were lined for a long distance with infantry and cavalry. On the arrival of the Governor, a procession was formed a short distance from the door of the durbar room, the Governor being in the centre, the Gaekwar on his right and Mr. Melvill on his left. The guard presented arms, a salute of 21 guns was fired in honour of the Governor, and the band played the National Anthem. The Governor, the Gaekwar, and Mr. Melvill were seated on a raised dais bearing three silver chairs. The gentlemen were grouped on the right, and ladies on the left. On arrival in front of the dais, the Governor announced to the assemblage that he was charged with the duty of representing the Queen at the formal investiture of the Gaekwar with powers of administration. The Honble J. B. Peile, Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, read the khareeta from the Governor-General. The Governor then led His Highness up to the dais and formally installed him. In doing so, His Excellency said the continuance of the dynasty of Baroda in the person of His Highness was a testimony of the will of the Queen-Empress that native States should be continued in their integrity and independence. Descended as His Highness was from Pelajit Rao, the founder of the family, his adoption was willingly accepted by the Government. No happier fortune—as men count fortune—could befall a human being than to be endowed with power, wealth, and youth. In the exercise of power, the Governor trusted His Highness would call to his counsels tried and skilful statesmen. His Highness would be secured by the Paramount Power from all external dangers. His ancestry had been fostered by skilful administration of his territories; his youth had been cheered by domestic happiness and was now of undiminished vigour; his education had been good; and such circumstances combined promised him a happy life. But the duration and reality of that happiness would greatly depend on his appreciation of its condition and uses. The time had gone by when territories and population might be regarded by the most powerful sovereigns only as instruments of their own personal glory and pleasure. All dynasties existed for higher ends than personal gratification, and such responsibilities might well oppress the hearts of those to whom were committed such means of good and evil. Happily there were rewards, but to gain them must be kept ever in view an aim above self-gratification or even human praise, a self-denial of that which would injure others or impede our own usefulness, a high principle as the rule and guide. In conclusion, the Governor said: "May such be your Highness's motives. May your happiness be great, your success continued, and your memory precious, and so will they be if you consult the happiness of others rather than your own; for then you will be loved, as well as respected, by your subjects; you will enjoy, indeed, the imperial favour, but above all, you will be approved and sustained by that higher Power by whom alone kings reign and princes decree justice."

The khilat from the Viceroy stated that from reports he had received of the progress made by the Gaekwar in fitting himself for the high position, His Excellency had thorough confidence that his rule would be characterised by unswerving loyalty to Government, if His Highness in regard to sovereign powers.

The Viceroy sincerely hoped he recognised the great responsibilities devolving on him, and that, assisted as he was by able officers who had already done so much for the Baroda State, he would do all he could to secure the affection and permanent prosperity of his people. The khillat would continue to take a strong interest in His Highness's welfare and that of Baroda. The Khillat concluded by expressing the high consideration entertained by the Viceroy for His Highness. The Gaekwar read a reply in English in a clear loud voice, and without the slightest trace of nervousness. He said he would always gratefully remember the great obligations the State generally and himself particularly owe the British Government. He would never cease to bear in mind all the good that Sir Richard Meade and Mr. Melvill had done to the State and himself. He gladly availed himself of this opportunity of acknowledging the claim of his respected mother on his lasting gratitude. Nothing could surpass her tender care and affection. His Highness spoke of the great value of the services rendered by Mr. Elliott in his education, which had produced the impression on his mind. His cordial acknowledgments were due to Raja Madhava Rao and his colleagues for placing before him the principles and practice of good government. These gentlemen had laboured hard and successfully to raise the tone of the administration of the State and pave the way to permanent reforms. He would pursue a simple, solid programme, and always feel and manifest a sincere and undeviating loyalty to the Empress of India. He was always solicitious for the welfare of his subjects. Whatever good was conferred on them by the old would be preserved, and he would honestly strive for a further steady progress. He expected constant cordial co-operation from all classes. His Highness closed his speech with—"May God help me in the fulfilment of my duties!"

The scene was strikingly brilliant. His Highness and Sirdars were richly dressed and covered with jewels.

The Governor, the Maharaja, Mr. Melvill, and Madhava Rao then entered the Maharanee's palace where their Highnesses Jumnabai, the Maharanee, and Tarabai, with all the European ladies present in the station, were seated. The Governor conversed with their Highnesses, Mr. Melvill interpreting. A letter from the Viceroy addressed to Jumnabai was read by Sir Madhava Rao, expressing the thanks of Government for the great care bestowed by her on the Gaekwar's education and welfare. The Governor of Bombay would always recollect the manner in which she had acquitted herself. Jumnabai listened with great interest, and seemed much gratified, and bowed her thanks to the Governor. She showed much self-possession and dignity of demeanour throughout. Presents were then made her, and gracefully acknowledged. The Governor also conversed with the Maharanee, and expressed his gratification at making her acquaintance on so auspicious an occasion. The Maharanee, making first a little bashful, acknowledged the compliment of the Governor. The Gaekwar made room on the chair, his little sister appearing on terms with him. After some conversation between the Governor, the Gaekwar, and the ladies, the personages returned to the durbar.

At a banquet this evening 286 guests were present. The Governor of Bombay's health was proposed by the Gaekwar. In dinner the Governor replied, and hoped the Gaekwar would have a distinguished career among the nobles and princes of the empire, as he came to his throne fortified by trials but supported by the best wishes of those by whom he is surrounded. The Governor proposed the health of His Highness, who, in reply, said that though he might often fall short of the high standard the Governor mentioned, he would so act in all things with honesty as to gain that invaluable prize—the confidence of his subjects. His Highness then proposed the health of Mr. Melvill, which was loudly applauded, and spoke of his many excellent qualities. Mr. Melvill, in reply, said few native princes had been better trained morally, physically, and intellectually than the Gaekwar, this being due in a great measure to the Queen. The mother of the Gaekwar called on Sir Madhav Rao to make a statement which he did, speaking of Mr. Melvill in the highest terms, and describing his great importance to the administration during the last few years. All the speeches were politically important and were highly interesting.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN RANGOON.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Dec. 27.

A tremendous fire is raging in the Bombay and Burmah Trading Company's timber-yard. It broke out at 7-15 a. m., and the boiler burst at half-past nine. Quantities of timber have been thrown into the river.

THE VICEROY IN BURMAH.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MOULMEIN, Dec. 27.

The Viceroy and suite arrived at 11-15 a. m. to-day from Rangoon. Replying to addresses, the Viceroy said it would be his pleasant duty to convey to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress the expressions of loyalty contained in all the addresses presented, and assured them that it was Her Majesty's most earnest desire that all her subjects should enjoy the same privileges and freedom.

At 2 p. m. His Excellency held a levée, at which about fifty European gentlemen were presented. After the levée a durbar was held, at which Moung Kyway Kyee was presented with a Burmese dah. Several others were presented with medals and chains.

Addressing the meeting, the Viceroy said he had [illegible] colleague Major Baring had had several interviews during the past few days with the Chief Commissioner with reference to the advancement of Burmah by reopening communications and encouraging agriculture. He did not wish the people to set aside their old ways, which experience had proved to them were useful, but he recommended them to adopt improvements which English and American skill had produced. Government could not, without the assistance of the leading members of the community, do all that was necessary. Mr. Bernard would, he felt sure, most earnestly carry out the views of the Government of India.

FATAL BATHING ACCIDENT.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Dec. 28.

Captain J. Lewis, 2nd Battalion Royal Warwickshire Regiment, when marching with his regiment to Calcutta, was drowned by a tank near Burdwan, where the officers had gone to bathe. His body was recovered and buried with military honours at Burdwan. The regiment is en route to Calcutta for the relief of the Scottish Rifles.

CENSUS PAPERS DESTROYED.

A portion of the Cuttack census offices have been burned down, and many summonses and statements are lost. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The original enumerators' schedules are reported safe, so that the results of the Orissa census will not be lost, but it will cause unavoidable delay in getting out the totals, not only of Orissa, but of the whole of Bengal.

BRIDGE OVER THE HOOGHLY.

The Englishman says that as the result of Mr. Bradford Leslie's visit to England, the long-projected bridge across the Hooghly is to be commenced at once. The site selected is at Chinsura. The bridge will be of wrought-iron, and the girders of novel construction. It will take three or four years to finish. The whole cost is estimated at £275,000, which will be borne by Government. The East India Railway's trains will then run into Sealdah.

AYOUB KHAN.

(FROM THE PRESS COMMISSIONER.)

CALCUTTA, Dec. 28.

RUMOURED ILLNESS OF THE AMIR.

It is rumoured that the Amir was detained a Ghuzni by illness.

Departures.—Principia and Chancellor.

With reference to a telegram which appears above, regarding a destructive fire at the Bombay-Burmah Trading Corporation's timber-yard in Rangoon, Messrs. Wallace and Co., Managers of the company, ask us to publish for the information of shareholders the following telegrams, which they have received from Rangoon:—"Dallah Saw Mill almost totally destroyed by fire." "Estimate 30 tons square and 500 tons scrambling in stock destroyed." The mill and scantling are insured. The corporation has other saw mills in Rangoon.

It is reported that Sir Frederick Roberts has applied for the services of Lieutenant H. T. Chamberlain, Central India Horse, as aide-de-camp on his personal staff.

Our Bombay correspondent informs us that Lingasoogur, which is considered very unhealthy, is doomed, and will be abandoned as a military station of the Hyderabad Contingent on the next relief.

On the 1st December the reserve in the Akola (Berar) treasury amounted to Rs. 3,68,625.

In addition to "the Allahabad Rifle Volunteer Cadet Company" to be attached as a 3rd Company to the Allahabad Volunteers, the formation of a company of Volunteers at Abu has been sanctioned, to be attached to the Agra Volunteers; and the revival of the Doveton College Cadet Company at Calcutta has also been directed.

The Egyptian Gazette is informed that the directors of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, in consequence of the unnecessary quarantine regulations issued by the International Sanitary Council and enforced against steamers from Bombay with clean bills of health, contemplate giving up Alexandria as a stopping place, and running their steamers from Bombay to Naples viâ the Canal.

The same paper states:—The blocks in the Suez Canal continue to be the subject of constant complaint. The P. and O. s. s. Khiva, homeward bound, which should have got away on Tuesday, the 6th Dec., only left Port Said on Sunday, the 11th; and the outward bound steamers, Khedive and Ancona, belonging to the same company, instead of leaving Suez on Thursday, the 8th, were also delayed till Sunday morning.

We have received by the mail a blue-book containing a mass of information under the title of "Miscellaneous papers bearing upon the condition of the country and people of India." The following is a list of the general headings under which these papers are arranged:—Physical causes of Indian famines; Agricultural Statistics; Agricultural Training; Forestry; Principles of Famine Relief; Private Relief in an Indian Famine; Notes on Indian Land Revenue; Growth of Taxation in Madras; Economic Condition of the People; Improvement of Tenant Right; Agricultural Indebtedness; Agricultural Banks; Railway Organization; Supply and Transport of Food in time of Famine; Development of Trade and Industry; Ahmednagar Irrigation; and Vital Statistics of India.

London was enveloped in a dense fog on the day the mail left. The Evening Standard states:—"Since ten o'clock this morning the metropolis has been enveloped in a fog which, for intensity and duration, has hardly been equalled within the memory of the 'oldest inhabitant.' The fog was accompanied at first by a slight drizzling rain; but this soon ceased, and the wind at the same time falling, the darkness increased until the sky soon became as black as at midnight. When it became apparent that the weather showed no immediate signs of clearing, the electric light in the City were placed in circuit; but most of the thoroughfares were left quite in darkness, no attempt having been made to light the street lamps. The suburban omnibus and tram-car services were carried on under very serious difficulties."

The London papers do not appear to have received any further particulars of the disaster to the pinnace of H. M. S. London in an encounter with a slave dhow, than we were able to give at the time of the occurrence. The late Captain Brownrigg was born November 19, 1836. He entered the service in 1849; was midshipman of H. M. S. Algiers in the Baltic expedition of 1854 (Baltic medal), and in the Black Sea in 1855. He was present at the capture of Kertch and Kinburn, and the bombardment of Sebastopol (Crimean and Turkish medals and clasp); and served during the Chinese war of 1857-59. He received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament for his services in the Australian colonies; commanded H. M. S. Euphrates during the Zulu war, and for the valuable service then rendered was awarded the Zulu war medal. He was appointed to H. M. S. London in June, 1880, which ship was re-commissioned at Zanzibar, 1st September, 1880. The London is built principally of wood, and is in a very unseaworthy condition; so much so, indeed, that the Lords of the Admiralty have arranged for her to be relieved on the Zanzibar station by H. M. S. Simoom at an early date. Only in November last the London made a good capture of a slave dhow near the island of Pemba. On that occasion one of the boats, under the command of Lieutenant Travers, succeeded in releasing one hundred and forty slaves, principally males. These made an aggregate of over five hundred slaves liberated since the date of the vessel's commission; while nearly two thousand five hundred tons of dhow shipping have been destroyed during that period. In fact, the London was the most successful ship on the station. Captain Charles Brownrigg was highly respected, and, owing to his cautious manner of procedure, the above captures were made with scarcely any bloodshed.

Says the Pall Mall Gazette:—It is not a little amusing to read the various explanations of the War Office announcement as to the appointment of the new Adjutant-General. Some newspapers, with uncommon ingenuity, have even tried to represent it as the mark of a triumph for the old school, headed by the Duke of Cambridge. The facts are, however, rather too well known in society to be misrepresented now. There were two schools in the army contending for the mastery before Sir Garnet's name was known at all by the public. He was in no sense whatever an originator of the late reforms. But he had the quickness to appreciate the views of the reformers, and the ability to place himself in such a position of influence that his good-will became of great importance. His position at the head of the new school has been rather thrust upon him; but there he is, and the struggle in this case has not been one between individuals but between the schools. The new school has won; and the Duke of Cambridge, who has been put forward as the head of the old more prominently by his supporters and sycophants than he has ever wished to be, finds himself called upon either to carry out the new organization with honesty and helpfulness or to resign. His decision to remain means nothing more or less than that he wisely and sensibly agrees to the conditions.

A question of considerable interest, both to medical men and the public at large, was recently decided at Liverpool. The Corporation of Liverpool proposed to seek parliamentary powers to compel every doctor in the city to report all cases of infectious disease that came under his knowledge to the medical officer of health. The doctors struck against this proposal and declared point-blank that they would not act as sanitary police. They would neither be tempted by the registration fee nor cowed by the threatened penalty. As at Nottingham a similar medical strike reduced similar clauses in a local Act to a dead letter, the Health Committee of the Corporation deemed it wiser to postpone to a more convenient season the proposal to increase the duties of the profession by Act of Parliament. The clauses have been dropped, and the doctors are masters of the field.

The Overland Mail has the following allusion to a common cause of complaint in India:—"The subject of the Post-office suggests the mention of a little irregularity which results in what may be called a colonial, and especially an Anglo-Indian, grievance. Many people in England think that one of the pleasantest ways of reminding friends in India that they are not forgotten is to send them a good magazine every month, or the Christmas number of an illustrated paper once a year. This is all very nice; but, unfortunately for the intended recipients of these pleasant reminders, the Post-office officials are of too literary and artistic a turn of mind to allow so many good things to pass them unseen and unread, or, indeed, to pass them at all, so they keep them for the delectation of their leisure hours. Some people grumble at this, and various suggestions have been made as to the best method of ensuring the delivery of these tokens of friendship. Some are in favour of stations where, after they have been duly read, they should be refolded, re-directed, and re-despatched; others think that, if duplicate copies of popular periodicals were sent, one would probably be allowed to reach its destination; but we incline to the more prosaic idea, that if one or two of these literary thieves were vigorously hunted up, and vigorously punished when found, we should hear no more of these curious non-deliveries. Who will bell the cat?"

At a performance of "She Stoops to Conquer" to be given at the Haymarket Theatre for the benefit of the General Theatrical Fund, on the afternoon of Thursday, the 15th inst., the part of Miss Hardcastle was to be played by Mrs. Langtry.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has written an article entitled "Some Suggestions for a Life of Dean Stanley," giving many personal reminiscences, which will appear in Good Words for January.

Baron Nordenskjold's own narrative of "The Voyage of the Vega" was expected to be ready for issue by the 15th inst. The book gives a detailed account of the journey, including a description of the inhabitants, animal life, flora, and geological structure of the country. It will also contain a survey of previous Arctic expeditions and explorations, illustrated with maps and woodcuts reproduced from books of travel dating from 1482.

The Aberdeen correspondent of the Evening Standard telegraphed on December 9 that information has been received that the body of the late Earl of Balcarres was conveyed to Florence in an Italian yacht last summer, and that Mr. Alsop, the London solicitor for the family, took his departure the same day for Italy for the purpose of inquiring into the matter.

A resolution was submitted at the meeting of the Cork Corporation on the day the mail left, condemning the action of the Government in not demanding the release of the suspects. After vigorous discussions, during which the terms of the resolution were opposed and the condition of the country deplored, the resolution was modified to a request to the Government to release Mr. Parnell and the other suspects, and in that form was all but unanimously passed.

Mr. Parnell has been ill in Kilmainham, and at a meeting to form a Prisoners' Aid Society, held in Dublin on Dec. 8, Mr. O'Donnell, M. P., having just been to visit Mr. Parnell in prison, said the indisposition was caused by the bad diet, which was enough to break down the strongest constitution.

After being defeated time after time in the law courts, Mr. Bradlaugh has at length scored a decided success. Justices Denman and Hawkins have granted the junior member for Northampton a new trial in the action brought against him by Mr. Clarke for voting in the House of Commons on the 2nd of July, 1880. The plaintiff, it will be remembered, had gained a verdict; but the case is now to be commenced over again.

On December 7 the trial by jury was begun of the three Russian officials who were some time ago charged with neglect of duty in connection with the assassination of Alexander II. The accused are Major-General Mrovinsky, Technical Inspector to the Prefect; Police-officer Tegleff, and Councillor Fursoff, chief of the secret police of the Prefecture. When the court opened, a few non-official private persons were allowed admission; but they were soon excluded by the president, leaving only one or two friends of the accused to witness the proceedings.

The Borneo Trading Company has received permission to fly the British Blue Ensign, with a distinguishing badge, on board the yacht of the Governor, and any vessels of the company carrying an armament. All other vessels of the company used for trading purposes only will fly the Red Ensign, with the same distinguishing badge.

The annual report of the North London Rifle Club lately issued, states that "one result of the club matches with the M.B.L. rifle has been the establishment of a Small Arms Committee by the War Office, which will probably ere long lead to the issue of an improved form of military rifle for the use of the British Army, including, it is to be hoped, the Volunteers."

The Evening Standard of December 9 states that Sir Samuel Wilson, the defeated candidate, has resolved to petition against Mr. Porter's return. "His counsel, it is said, are of opinion that Mr. Porter's placards and circulars about the working of the Land Act and the judgments of the Assistant Commissioners, constitute a corrupt practice within the meaning of previous decisions. A petition will, therefore, be immediately lodged."

As an example of the extraordinary change that has lately taken place in the respective consumptions of brandy and of whisky, an up-country contemporary notes that, during a recent voyage of one of the P. and O. steamers from England to Bombay, 450 bottles of whiskey were consumed, and only 24 bottles of brandy. A year or two ago these figures would probably have been reversed.

Sine die. A Portsmouth telegram mentions a report that the Channel fleet will remain off the Irish coast "until the condition of the country becomes more promising."

The Globe remarks:—The assumption of European titles by the Chinese nobility has a comical effect. We read, for instance, of the death of Lady Keylee Ch'en, wife of the First Secretary of the Chinese Legation and sister of the Marquis Tseng. We only trust this new class of titles will be dealt with by the newspapers with a little better discrimination than has been shown lately in handling some that should be more familiar.

The number of Socialists expelled from the three important towns in Germany is as follows:—Berlin, 155; Hamburg and environs, 195; Leipzig, 70; total, 420. Most of these have wives, children, and relations dependent upon them for their bread. The majority have emigrated to England or America. Four had been previously members of Parliament. Their names are Messrs. Fritzsche, Vahlteich, Reimer, and Hasselmann.

A London paper asks:—Is it a testimony to the general trustworthiness of the Post-office as a medium for the transmission of money, or a proof of special carelessness, that £900 in bank-notes should be sent from a bank at Inverness to a branch bank without the numbers being taken? It is not surprising, at any rate, that the thief has managed to escape for some time, and the owners of the cash may think themselves fortunate that he has been discovered at last.

With all the pomp of the Roman ritual, to which three hundred and fifty ecclesiastical dignitaries contributed, the Pope on Dec. 8 canonised the monk Laurent, the pilgrim Labre, the canon De Rossi, and Sister Clara. After celebrating mass, the Pope delivered a homily, in which he expatiated upon the merits of the new saints, and expressed his joy that, in the midst of his tribulations, he was able to augment the number of the Elect who interceded with the Almighty for the Church and society.

MILK O[illegible]NGS BY PARSEES.

TO THE EDITOR OF [illegible]BAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I believe the testimon[illegible] respondents "Perditus" and "[illegible]Your Parsee correspondent "[illegible]said," that the rite, is nowhere enjoined by the Zoroas[illegible] a religious and I daresay "Perditus" is correct in [illegible] religion, "most of the ceremonies performed by [illegible]ing that have their origin from the Hindus,—Parsees which the educated Parsee youths scoff at," [illegible]onies ness the extensive use made by Parsees in [illegible] religious ceremonies of a product of the cow by [illegible] means so savoury as her milk; but I doubt the truth of the assertion made by "Perditus," that there is amongst the Parsees "no such custom of pouring milk into the sea." It is a custom, I have no doubt, more honoured in the breach than the observance, but that, I believe, is due, as I suggested in my former letter, to the parsimony of the Parsees in consequence of the high price of milk. This opinion is supported by your other correspondent "Khorshid," who admits that he knows of "some instances wherein Parsee males and females of the orthodox stamp offer cocoanuts, sugar, flowers, &c., to propitiate the mighty ocean, but," he adds "I never heard of such a thing as the offering of eighty seers of new good milk. Not a single Parsee possessing a particle of sense would ever do such a thing." And he concludes by saying that "the only solution of the scene witnessed by 'Senex' that one can naturally come to, is the want of sound judgment on the part of the bigotted Parsee alluded to." Now I believe that the unprejudiced portion of your readers will be of a different opinion. It seems to me that the efficacy of an offering should be in proportion to its cost; if so, eighty seers of good new milk, costing several rupees, will go farther towards "propitiating the mighty ocean" than a trifling quantity of cocoanuts, sugar, flowers, &c., of the value of a few annas, and this was probably the opinion of the "bigotted Parsee" alluded to: precisely as, with some of us Christians, the burning of an expensive wax-candle is more meritorious than that of a farthing rushlight, and, with the ancient Hebrews, from whom our religion is partly derived, the offering of a tender quarter of fat mutton was more acceptable to the Lord (i. e., to the Levites who ate it) than a lean and scraggy quarter of a tough old ram. The Parsee gentleman who, as I stated in my former letter, witnessed the scene I have described, assured me that the custom of pouring milk into the sea was in vogue with the Parsees. His words were:—"We all do it." He added that a number of milk would be quite as effectual as a hundred seers, which I devoutly believe, and if ever I become a Parsee, my lacteal offerings "to propitiate the mighty ocean" will be homœopathic.

A SUGGESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The Syndicate of the Bombay University would confer a great boon on the students who were so unfortunate as to be plucked in the late B.A. examination by permitting them to appear at the Second B.A. of the ensuing year, without first passing the First B. A. examination. Those students who have passed the F. E. A. according to the old regulations have passed an examination of the equal difficulty with the First B.A. of the present regulations, and it seems rather hard that they should now have to give two examinations instead of one before attaining the degree. The Syndicate by a bye-law permitted students to give both examinations in one year; but what will be the result of this rule? The candidates, especially those who have not exceedingly tenacious memories, or the facility of cramming any amount of mental pabulum, would without doubt be plucked in both. Of course this permission of attending the Second B. A. (if granted) ought not to extend beyond the ensuing year. By the publication of these few lines in your valuable journal, you may indirectly be able to confer a great favour on many an unfortunate

MADRAS.

A Narrow Escape.—A correspondent writes:—Laboratory Sergeant F. Beard, when out shooting at Vaidiri, on Friday, the 23rd instant, miraculously escaped accident which would have proved fatal had he been one inch further in advance. It would appear that he gave his gun (a double barrel) to a Shikaree to hold while he jumped a stream, and in the act of stepping back to clear the same, the Shikaree carelessly touched the left trigger, and the contents of the barrel went through his trowser at the thigh.—Times.

HEADS OF INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT, AND OTHER SOURCES.)

The Queen held a private Investiture of the Order of the Bath on Wednesday at Windsor, at which the Speaker of the House of Commons and Sir H. Parkes received the insignia. Dr. Kirk was also invested with the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and six gentlemen received the honour of Knighthood.

The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived on Tuesday at Longleat, Warminster, on a visit to the Marquis of Bath.

The Empress Eugénie has been suffering from the effects of a fall in her house at Hyde-park, but is recovering. The Queen came up from Windsor yesterday to visit the Empress.

The Home Government has decided to comply with the wish of the Natal Legislature, and will appoint a Governor for that Colony instead of a Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Scudamore, Postmaster-General's appointment, therefore, will not be proceeded with.

The Solicitor-General for Ireland, Mr. Porter, Q.C., has been returned as M.P. for Londonderry county by a majority of 617 votes over his opponent Sir S. Wilson.

The deaths are announced of Mr. R. Burrowes, formerly M. P. for Cavan, and of Mr. Macqueen, Q.C.

The honour of a Baronetcy has been conferred upon Sir R. Phillimore, Judge of the Admiralty Division of the High Court, and upon the Right Hon. E. Sullivan, Master of the Rolls in Ireland.

In the Queen's Bench Division on Saturday, Justices Bowen and Hawkins granted a rule absolute for a new trial in the cause "Clarke v. Bradlaugh" on the question as to the exact time of the issue of the writ for penalties.

Mr. Justice Denman on Tuesday stated that he, with Mr. Justice Bowen, had reconsidered their refusal to allow an appeal in the case of the occupiers of rooms in a dwelling-house whom they had decided to be entitled to vote as householders. Looking to the very large number of cases to which the decision would apply they had determined to allow an appeal.

The Judges of the Queen's Bench Division on Wednesday decided that the Act for Closing Public-houses in Wales on Sundays would not come into effect until next year.

Dr. J. H. Lawson was yesterday examined at Wandsworth Police-court on a charge of poisoning his brother-in-law, Percy Malcolm John, a pupil in a school at Wimbledon. The hearing was adjourned.

A sixth death has resulted from the railway collision at Tayport. The other persons who were injured are believed to be out of danger.

A robbery was effected on Sunday morning at the residence of Lord Trevor, near Chirk, North Wales, and jewellery of great value was stolen. The valet and a housemaid have been arrested on suspicion.

The mausoleum of the Balcarres family, at Dun Echt, near Aberdeen, has been broken open, and the body of the late Earl of Crawford, who died about a year since, has been stolen.

The annual Cattle Show was opened on Monday at the Agricultural-hall Islington. The principal prize was awarded to Sir Thomas Cunard. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh visited the show.

At the meeting of the Smithfield Club held on Tuesday the Prince of Wales was elected President for 1883, in succession to Mr. Walter, M.P., the President for 1882.

A shooting match at 100 pigeons was contested on Monday by the famous American marksman, Dr. Carver, and Mr. Stanley Wood, the result [illegible]

John Tobin was further examined on Tuesday before the Bradford magistrates on a charge of treason-felony, for having in his possession a large number of revolvers, cartridges, and documents relating to the Fenian conspiracy. Another remand was granted.

Intelligence was received on Monday at the Admiralty that a boat from her Majesty's ship London, which attempted to board a slave dhow off the Zanzibar coast, was beaten off, and Captain Brownrigg and three of his men were killed.

The first of a line of vessels sailing under the Chinese flag, arrived in the Thames on Tuesday, having on board 3,000 tons of tea.

Colonel Stanley, late of the 60th Regiment, committed suicide on Friday in the coffee room of an hotel at Windsor.

A young soldier stationed at Aldershot committed suicide on Friday last by placing himself on the rails near Woking Station and allowing himself to be run over by a train.

Several further arrests have been made in Ireland under the Protection Act.

An Association has been formed in Ireland under the name of the Political Prisoners' Aid Society, which appears to be intended to supply the place of the suppressed National Land League. At branch meetings held in different places the tenant farmers have been called upon to subscribe to the funds of the association.

DR. DE ROOS'
CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which has been offered to the world; and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all corroborate the most sanguine of the Inventor's hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients, testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to myriads of debilitated individuals: and it is not too much to assert that hundreds of persons are at the present moment living to say [illegible] joyment of their mental and bodily powers, in full enjoyment of good health—who previously were drivers in thorough [illegible], had been given up by the confirmed hypochondriac, left to drag out the remainder of their existence in misery [illegible] faculty as incurable, and [illegible] nder of their existence a misery to themselves, and [illegible] This genuine herbal [illegible] confinual anxiety to their friends. [illegible] strength to [illegible] e-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength [illegible] ne most shattered constitutions. It not only [illegible] ...ates the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite, and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in the climates) suffer from languour and relaxation, as also all persons going to the East or West Indies should provide themselves with this important article of health.

Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine, for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion, renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly gild the autumn of declining years, and, in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Gutta Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable; giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, in any quantity, 8s. per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

DR. DE ROOS'
COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder and diseases of the Kidney and Urinary Organs generally.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health, and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer under these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, gravel or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packages, 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD.
DR. DE ROOS'
PILULÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS,

which speedily, and almost magically, remove pain and diseases of whatever nature, restore cheerfulness to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strengthen all the organs on which health and life depend: they do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable; and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bile, sick headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, the sensations of fulness at the pit of the stomach, pains between the shoulders, and the distress arising from indigestion and general debility they will be found of unexampled efficacy. They act mildly on the bowels, without pain or griping, impart strength to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, clear the skin, remove sallowness or pimples, purify the blood, brace the nerves, and marvellously invigorate the whole system. Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s. per box.

EACH package of Dr. De Roos' preparations bears the Government Stamp with the words "WALTER DE ROOS, London" in White Letters on a Red Ground, by order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners, without which none can possibly be genuine. DR. DE ROOS' world-famed Medicines may be obtained of Messrs. TREACHER & Co., Limited, Bombay; H.S. MADON & Co., Bombay; BARRIE & Co., Madras; WEST, Brigade Road, Bangalore; HAVELL, Allahabad; DOOLY SING and LALL SING, Delhi and Ajmere; SMITH, STAN, STREET & Co., Calcutta; PEAKE, ALLEN and Co., Lombard Street; and all the principal Merchants in India.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The Public are respectfully informed that the DR. DE ROOS' Pills are not sold in loose quantities, but only in Packages, at the aforementioned prices. Intending purchasers are specially cautioned not to be deluded into buying so-called "Gutta Vitæ" or "Renal Pills," but in every case specially to ask for and [illegible] Dr. De Roos "Gutta Vitæ" or Dr. [illegible] ...tated and [illegible] ...viser," by [illegible] ...epres- [illegible] ...ation.

SARSAPARILLA.
Wilkinson's Essence or Fluid Extract of
RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA

Is the ONLY PREPARATION RECOGNISED by the FACULTY as a WONDERFUL PURIFIER of the HUMAN BLOOD.

It is not too much to say that those suffering from the effects of TROPICAL CLIMATES, such as TORPID LIVER, DEBILITATING EVACUATIONS of BOILS, ERUPTIONS, LASSITUDE, &c., will, by taking this extraordinary ESSENCE of RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, soon find relief and ultimately a cure. It rapidly becomes less liable to attacks of illness.

"We cannot speak too highly of it."—Lancet.
"We recommend your Red Jamaica Sarsaparilla."—Medical Review.
"Your preparation for removing what may be called the Sesquiche of a mercurial course."—Sir R. Martin.
The late Lord Clyde, writing for a further supply of Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla says, "I am never without it, for when feeling depressed or out of sorts from anxiety or fatigue, a dose or two animates me."
"Your Essence of Red Jamaica Sarsaparilla CURED me of a Torpid Liver after all other remedies failed."—Earl of Aldborough.

RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE Proprietor of the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" Press having leased from the GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY COMPANY and the BOMBAY, BARODA AND CENTRAL INDIA RAILWAY COMPANY, the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to these two Companies, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting Notices of Advertisements on the lines.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the Native languages.

The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every one in the United Kingdom.

INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTEL-KEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines of Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c. seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Stations an infallible means of extending their business.

Also as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destinations, Placards exhibited at the different stations on those lines are every day becoming more and more valuable as means of bringing the Advertisers business to the notice of the public.

Advertisers can select the stations, on either line, at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means offered of making announcements known to the public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers may be printed at moderate charges in English or any of the Native languages at the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" Press. Estimates on application.

RATES.

Boards not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Rs. 2 per month. For every additional square foot annas 8.

Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 feet square, will have the advantage of having his business Advertisement read by thousands of passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Rs. 2. Parties advertising on six stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent.; on twelve stations or more twenty-five per cent.

The boards to be delivered at the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" OFFICE, whence they will be sent by the Lessee to the various stations selected by the Advertiser. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the expense and risk of the Advertiser.

Special arrangements for long periods.
